Labor Day weekend last there were 15 rural traffic accidents investigated in this county. Five persons lost their lives, 12 received injuries and there was an estimated loss in damage to property of $11,850. This year, as an emergency measure, the Texas Highway Patrol, in an effort to reduce the number of traffic accidents on the highways, has emphasized the use of unmarked patrol cars.

Oil Work Continues In County

By Dick Tatum

Nearing completion this week is a 1,000-foot wildcat effort of Bates and Flato on Henry G. Boehl's land, seven miles S. E. Hondo. The tester was spudded Aug. 19.

Another Medina County wildcat is a 1,500-foot test effort by Lundells, Inc., ten miles S. E. Hondo. This is the operators' second effort on A. H. Bendele's land and is approximately 2,400-feet S. E. of the Terry No. One dry hole.

The Texas Gulf Coast Corporation, of Corpus Christi, has scheduled a 1,800-foot operation in the Taylor Ina area.

It is designated the No. One Frank Silvey, located on the J. Keller Survey on a 320-acre lease.

In the Chicon Lake field, a 1,500-foot test effort has been projected on the Emmert Herber land. John J. Pichinson is operator of this well that will be 18 miles S. E. Hondo.

A wildcat drilled two miles S. E. Yancey on Sam Kennedy's land was found to be a duster and abandoned by operator Paul G. Morrison. Total depth was 1,200-feet.

Two other dry holes were reported in the Taylor-Ina field last week. Dugger and Holmes drilled to 1,124-feet on their No. One G. G. Hairrell, 8.5 miles N. W. Devine, before moving off location. The No. One Bennie Krueger was pronounced a duster by Timpte and Mansheim. This hole was drilled to 907-feet, some 11 miles S. E. Hondo.

Flato and Bates completed two successful wells on the T. J. Neuman land 11 miles S. E. Hondo. Well No. One is producing 11 bbls. daily from 868-feet in the Navarro. The Neuman No. Two is getting 13.8 bbls. a day from the Navarro-Taylor at 860-feet.

2,149 Votes Cast During Primary Run-Off Election

City Officials Meet With Insurance Man

City officials met with J. S. Cunningham, San Antonio insurance representative Thursday morning to hear recommendations for Hondo's fire insurance key rate.

W. T. Crow, local fire insurance agent, said he felt sure the city could get 10 cents deducted from the key rate if the recommendations were carried out by the proper persons.

Cunningham had previously presented Hondo's fire insurance facts to the State Fire Insurance office in Austin and has now reported to city officials the results of that meeting.

The recently completed roof survey to determine the number of combustible and non-combustible roofs within the residential area will be a saving for the community after state officials check accuracy of the count.

H. B. Eggen, Martin Noonan, W. F. Gaudin, Ronnie Great-house, Mrs. W. T. Crow, Ralph Cole, Irene Braden and Leo Lutz worked on the survey. Judy Breiten typed and compiled the survey findings. The survey took three days and the results were compiled on the fourth day. O. L. Moss furnished maps and other essential tools for the report.

There were 2,502 roofs counted of which 28 per cent were combustible.

Richardson Wins In Representative Race

Medina County citizens placed 2,149 ballots in boxes last Saturday during the run-off primary.

Jack Richardson polled 3,990 votes in the State Representative's race to beat out H. O. Niemeyer, who polled 3,828. Winning by 162 votes, Richardson pulled 998 votes in Medina County while Niemeyer managed to gain 1,103.

Tabulations from other counties were Uvalde, Richardson with 1,770 and Niemeyer, 1,720; Zavala, Richardson, 750, Niemeyer, 685; and Dimmit, Richardson, 472, and Niemeyer, 320.

In other Medina County voting, Price Daniel won in the Governor's race by almost a two to one margin — 1,393 votes for Daniel and 756 votes for Yarbrough. For attorney general, Will Wilson held Medina County's favor and beat his opponent, Tom Moore by a 1,459 to 599 vote margin.

Ben Ramsey, unopposed, polled 1,866 votes from Medina County voters.

Both Price Daniel and Ralph Yarbrough had representatives present to witness the official canvass of votes in Medina County last Tuesday. Hugh Meyer represented Daniel and Max Orta represented Yarbrough. There was no change in the vote from Saturday's tabulation, except that one or two small precincts which had not reported were added.

Precincts 13 and 18, Cliff and Elstone, did not hold an election. A complete list of election returns, by precincts, has been published on page 12 of this issue of the Anvil Herald.

MRS. MYRTLE WILLIAMS, 803 21st St., Hondo, drops her stub and ballot in the voting box during last Saturday's run-off primary. Mrs. Williams is a practical nurse. There were 2,149 votes cast in the Saturday election.

Fred Jagge Has Trouble At Tank

Fred Jagge, Castroville, had a fishy tale to tell our Castroville correspondent, Mrs. W. R. Griggs, last Friday morning.

Someone seined Jagge's tank Thursday night or early Friday morning, taking all the large fish and leaving the smaller ones on the banks of the tank to die.

They also cleaned the fish from Jagge's horse trough and caused him the trouble of dipping all the water out of the trough and cleaning it before he could water his cattle.

According to Jagge, this isn't the first time such things have happened around Castroville. Other local citizens have had fish poisoned in the past.

Roughage Program Extended

Walter T. McKay, State Director, Farmers Home Administration, today advised Morris E. Albers, FFA County Supervisor, of the designation of Bexar, Medina, Frio and LaSalle Counties under the Hay and Roughage Program for Texas.

Applications to participate in the Hay and Roughage program will be received by County Farmers Home Administration committees immediately at the Farmers Home Administration Office at Room 580 Post Office Building, San Antonio, Texas and the ASC office in Hondo.

The Hay and Roughage Program was worked out between the Governor and the Secretary of Agriculture to provide emergency disaster counties.

Under the program, the local county FFA committee will determine each applicant's eligibility and will issue a certificate good for $7.50 per ton on roughage actually purchased. The applicant will then apply the certificate on the purchase price of roughage from any dealer he chooses. The dealer endorses the certificate and draws a draft on the Emergency Drought Committee's account.

Applications may be filed through Dec. 3, 1956, for a supply of roughage needed to last through Dec. 31, 1956. Roughage under the program includes hay, either baled or loose, cotton seed hulls, peanut hulls, corn cobs, sorghum bundles or ensilage.

The Roping Club was organized one and one-half years ago and meets each Sunday afternoon. There are 17 members in the club.

Eliminate Public Dragging Drag Strip Now Being Studied

By Don Lawrence

The Devine Chamber of Commerce has been handed a proposal for a hot rod strip in the city of Devine.

Local hot rod enthusiasts have asked the Chamber to let them open a hot rod strip for drag races. It is hoped that the drag strip will help young boys understand one place is best for "dragging" instead of endangering lives by "dragging" on public streets.

W. K. Williams, appearing before the Devine Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday, explained the hot rod club and asked those present to consider the proposition and make a decision at their next regular meeting.

During the meeting, the following men were elected as directors of the Chamber of Commerce:

Elephant Tusk Found Near Another Discovery Plot

An eight-foot elephant tusk has been uncovered at Verdina, on the John G. Brucks' property.

Found 100 yards from the spot another elephant tusk and bones were discovered more than 50 years ago, the tusk is about eight inches in diameter and worn with age.

The mastodon, as it is sometimes called, was found by Brucks and his son, Joe Brucks, at the bottom of a newly-cleaned tank.

It was first exposed to partial view when a bulldozer blade scraped the earth off the top. It was recognized as some kind of bone. A coat of shellac was applied to help preserve the fossil and keep it from crumbling under exposure to air.

The two men dug a small hole around the tusk in an effort to remove it.

A sophomore student at San Antonio College and a friend plastered the tusk and removed it to the College last Friday.

Brucks, 84 years old, says the other bones, which were found when he was only a young man, were taken to a museum and assembled. They were also found while an excavating crew was in the process of cleaning a tank on Brucks' property.

The tusk was approximately twelve feet below the surface of the soil, and had water over it for the past few years. Brucks said the tank had not been cleaned for the past 15 years.

It lay in a bed of clayey gravel, underlying a layer of soil which probably washed down over it many years ago. This is backed up by the fact that the tank is at the bottom of a hill.

The two men found the tusk Friday, Aug. 17.

Feed Grain Program Is Extended

Walter R. McKay, State Director, Farmers Home Administration, today advised Morris E. Albers, County Supervisor, of the extension of the Emergency Feed Grain program in Medina and Bexar Counties.

Farmers Home Administration County committees may now take applications from farmers and ranchers through Oct. 1, 1956, to provide feed for basic livestock herd through Oct. 31, 1956.

The emergency feed grain program is now authorized in 185 counties in Texas, McKay said.

Construction Slows Down During August

The City of Hondo has issued only three building permits since July 14.

Total value of the construction was $600. They were to move a house out of the city limits move a house from one block in the city limits to another block in the city limits and the third was for a six foot extension on a residence.

Tommy Zuberbueler, recently appointed FFA Civil Defense chairman, reported on the Aug. 17 CD meeting at the Medina County Courthouse. Following the CD report, George Koch, Clyde Bohmfalk and Zuberbueler gave a report on the state FFA convention held in Dallas recently.

John McAnelly, vocational agriculture teacher at Hondo High School, welcomed prospective FFA members, who will enroll in high school this year. He also gave a run-down on dates of the various FFA leadership contests to be held this year.

Cold drinks were served as refreshments.

Mrs. Murrell Resigns From School Board

Mrs. A. A. Murrell, Castroville, has resigned her position on the Castroville School Board, due to the uncertainty of her plans in the near future.

She plans to leave for the East immediately, to take her daughter, Helen, to Mary Washington College in Virginia. She will then go to Baltimore, Md., for a visit with relatives.

G. BRUCKS, 84 year old Verdina resident, had a look at the eight foot long elephant tusk Aug. 17, after a bulldozer had scraped the top off the top. The tusk, which was estimated to be eight inches in diameter, has been moved to San Antonio College.

Rain Brings Erosion

August 24

Much needed rain fell in varying amounts over the Medina Valley Soil Conservation District Sunday night. Most of the rain was of high intensity, high runoff producing type, which caused some erosion damage in the Hondo, Quihi and Dunlay areas.

According to information collected Monday morning, the rainfall amounts received in various parts of the district were pretty variable. Hondo received 2 1/2 to 3 inches, the Quihi-Dunlay area 2 1/2 to 4 1/2 inches, Medina Lake 3.8 inches, D'Hanis 2 to 3 1/2 inches, LaCoste and Castroville 1 to 1 1/2 inches, Biry, Devine, Natalia, Yancey and Pearson received only traces of rainfall. The Jim Amberson and Clinton Beiber ranches in the northwest part of the district received one-half inch of rainfall.

In some areas, a large part of the rainfall that fell was lost in runoff from sloping, bare fields. Approximately 25 to 30 holes were dug Monday morning in the Quihi-Dunlay-Hondo area on bare rangeland having one percent slope, clay and clay loam soils. In the area north of Dunlay where rainfall amounted to 3 to 4 inches, the average penetration was five to seven inches. Bare rangeland, if there had been no runoff, four inches of rain would have wet this soil to an 18 to 20 inch depth. In the same area in a pasture having a fair cover of red grama and mesquite grass, the penetration was 14 to 16 inches. Thus, it is easy to see that it takes a long time to store water in the soil and grow more grass.

About six holes were dug in pasture immediately behind the east of Hermann. Soil in the House east of Hondo where 3 inches of rain fell on bare clay loam rangeland penetrated about one foot into the soil. The average moisture penetration was four to six inches, which indicates that approximately two inches of rainfall was from that pasture as runoff can never be brought back to grow grass. The moisture was stored in the top four to five inches of soil will mostly be during one hot windy week of evaporation, unless more rain occurs. Thus, it will possibly be a series of rains plus proper management to get bare, sloping rangeland in suitable condition to properly use a reasonable amount of the rainfall this part of Texas.

A combination of root rot and range seeding to blue grama grass is being strongly recommended at present by your conservation district as means of speeding up the recovery bare, brushy rangeland to grass production. These practices will be in the short period of 120 days in the Dimmit Soil Conservation District at Carrizo Springs.

Lawrence Roth of D'Hanis just recently completed 100 acres of root plowing and range seeding on his ranch north of D'Hanis. Others in the district who plan to do root plowing in the few days are James A. Cameron, 40 acres; T. J. Grimsinger, 40 acres; and J. N. Wilson, 100 acres.

A. F. Huegelo and Robert B. are in the process of constructing approximately 1 1/2 miles of ridge-type field terraces on each of their farms. Riff is also constructing about 1/2 mile of erosion terrace to protect his farm from outside runoff from rangeland above his field.

Jim Amberson, Wesley Hays and Walter Conring are at present constructing farm ponds to livestock water on their farms and ranches. Conring will have constructed three ponds on his farm by the end of this year.

J. D. Huegelo staked contour guide lines on 50 acres of farm land last week. These lines will aid him in planting and farming his land on the contour in future years.

Crossed Eyes May Cause Blindness In Later Years

Don't assume that a child will outgrow crossed eyes, warns Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health. Crossed eyes are a serious defect. Vision in the crossed eye may fail to develop and the child will grow up without useful sight in that eye. In later years, the eye may straighten and appear normal, yet the person will be partially blind — often without knowing it.

Various factors may be responsible for crossed eyes: near- or far-sightedness, faulty muscles and excessive nervous innervation of a blow on the head; heredity or disease. Any one of these may affect the ability of the two eyes to work together, causing one of the eyes to turn in, out or upward. As a result the two eyes are unable to focus on the same object at the same time. The youngster sees double, because his crossed eyes view an object from widely different angles.

The child is disturbed, but often too young to explain his difficulty. He squints his eyes and tilts his head, unconsciously trying either to combine the two images into one, or simply to ignore one image altogether. But neither attempt succeeds. So he finally gives up trying to see with both eyes. He subconsciously eliminates the image in one eye, now sees only one image, and actually becomes accustomed to "one-eyed" sight.

The longer a child is cross-eyed, the more difficult it is to improve his vision. If treated early — preferably before the age of four — crossed eyes can usually be corrected. Some forms of treatment can be started as early as the age of one year. And even cross-eyed children up to nine or later can occasionally regain normal sight if they receive competent medical treatment. The specialist may first recommend glasses if the youngster is near- or far-sighted; in some few cases that alone will do the job.

Exercises for the eye muscles may be used to teach the two eyes to work together again as a team. These do not take the place of surgery or glasses, but are valuable. Sometimes an operation is necessary to line up the crossed eye with the normal one. One operation may be all that's needed, but it sometimes takes two or three before the eyes are exactly straight, since several eye muscles may be involved. Complete correction may take a year or more.

One set of eyes can last a lifetime but it takes responsible care by parents during the years of childhood. Habits formed then will carry over into adulthood.

Internal Revenue Law Changed For Drought

District Director of Internal Revenue, R. L. Phinney, of the Texas District stated today that Congress has amended Section 1,033 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1934. Many taxpayers in this area may desire to take advantage of the relief provisions provided by the new section 1,033 (f) of the Code, as amended by Public Law 629, approved June 29, 1956, reads as follows: "Livestock Sold on Account of Drought — For purposes of this title, the sale or exchange of livestock (other than poultry) held by a taxpayer for draft, breeding, or dairy purposes in excess of the number the taxpayer would sell if he followed his usual business practices shall be treated as an involuntary conversion to which this section applies if such livestock are sold or exchanged by the taxpayer solely on account of drought."

Phinney stated that this section applies to taxable years ending after Dec. 31, 1955 but only in the case of gains from sales and exchanges of livestock, held for draft, breeding, or dairy purposes, may be deferred. This section of the Code is only applicable with respect to livestock which are sold or exchanged on account of abnormally low rainfall.

If the taxpayer replaces the livestock with livestock of a like kind within one year following the close of the taxable year in which the sale or exchange is made, no taxable gain is recognized. The new livestock must be held by the taxpayer for the same useful purposes as he held the old and must be of like kind. A replacement of draft animals with breeding or dairy animals would not qualify under the new law.

Phinney stated that the Regulations require that all the details in connection with an involuntary conversion at a gain (including those relating to the replacement of the converted property, or a decision not to replace, or the expiration of the period for replacement) shall be reported in the return for the taxable year or years in which any such gain is realized. If the taxpayer elects in his return not to have the gain from the sale or exchange of livestock taxed and it later develops that the livestock is not replaced within the one year period or the cost of the replacement livestock is less than the proceeds from the sale or exchange, an amended return should be filed for the year or years in which the gain was realized to report such gain. If, on the other hand, the taxpayer elects to report the gain in his return for the year in which the gain occurs and before the expiration of the one year period within which the livestock must be replaced, decides to replace the livestock sold with livestock of like kind, a claim for refund, Form 843, may be filed.

If the sale or exchange of livestock results in a loss, the loss is deductible in the year sustained, regardless of whether the taxpayer purchases livestock of like kind to replace the livestock sold. Further information as to the basis of property sold or exchanged, the holding period of property, and involuntary conversion may be found in chapters 11 and 13 of the Farmers' Tax Guide, a copy of which may be obtained from the Internal Revenue Office.

There are 14 teachers in the school system, including one expected before the opening of school. New teachers for the LaCoste school include Ellen Traynor, who will teach homemaking, and R. Practice will be Aug. 27.

The Eagle Band has started daily practice sessions. Each day, from 8:30 until 9:30 a.m., the band marches. Then, at 9:30, rehearsals begin and at 10:30, beginners meet. Bill Fojtik is band director. Teachers in the LaCoste school include C. E. Schott, high school principal and coach; Dr. John Ward, math and social sciences; W. F. Richards, commercial work; Miss Lula L. McMeams, English; C. E. Vickery, vocational agriculture; Miss Ellen Traynor, homemaking; and Fojtik, music and band. Elementary teachers are J. R. elementary; Miss Alice Rodgers, third and fourth grades; Mrs. Cecile Furniss, first and second grades; and Miss Naomi Uzzell, first grade. A fifth grade teacher is still needed, according to Blue.

County Agent Notes

Gold Star Awards Go To Muennink, Flack

By C. B. Gaston

The committee for the selection of the Gold Star Award to the outstanding boy and girl in this county met last Friday and made the awards to Donald Muennink of Hondo and Beverly Flack of Natalia. The awards will be presented at a banquet to be held at Corpus Christi Oct. 13.

Areas receiving the good rains last week are thankful and are looking forward to getting more so a large oats crop can be planted this fall. The variety most adaptable for early planting is Alamo which is resistant to leaf and stem rust. Other varieties acceptable to this area are Mustang, Vistorgrain and Camellia. If you are planning to plant oats next month, it would be desirable to get your seed orders placed early.

There are several who will have wheat acreages this year. The variety recommended for South Texas in Quanah, which is leaf and stem rust resistant and has a rating of very good on milling qualities.

USDA scientists of the Agricultural Research Service have found that the water consumption of cattle is in direct proportion to the amount of feed the animal is getting. If consumption of one is curtailed, the other also is limited. A 1,000 pound animal on maintenance rations, not gaining or losing weight, will consume six gallons of water a day when air temperature is 70 degrees and nine gallons at 90 degrees. A 1,000 pound steer or heifer gaining the normal pound a day on the range requires 10 gallons of water each day when the air temperature is 70 and 17 gallons at 90 degrees.

A service of the Extension Service that could be used more extensively is the blueprints that are available for free distribution. The list includes barns for cattle, swine, poultry, and sheep, feeders and troughs, and many other labor saving devices.

Many people like to use the fall of the year to build things around the farm and if this service is needed, call on the county agent for help.

HERE IN HONDO

M&M Bill Berger, Eddie and Barbara, spent Saturday and Sunday in Waelder visiting Mrs. W. E. Barnes.

Texas Underground Desert May Swallow Cities, Towns

An underground desert is in the making in Texas which may eventually swallow such cities and towns as Amarillo, Dalhart, Plainview, Lubbock and Muleshoe.

These population centers are located atop a vast formation of moisture-laden sands from which water is being pumped at a faster rate than nature can replenish it. The situation was created by nature and aggravated by man.

These sands of the Ogallala formation depend partly upon rainfall and the water and snow sheds of the Colorado and New Mexico mountains to replenish the underground flow. For several years, snow in these sister states have been insufficient to feed the formation at a rate greater than water usage.

The sand strata is thick in some places, thin in others. In some sections of the Texas Panhandle, the saturated thickness of sand is 50 and 60 per cent less than a short six years ago.

The boom in irrigation on the High Plains sparked the increase in water consumption. Municipal supplies account for only about 15 per cent of water withdrawals. Records show that of all water pumped since 1938, over 60 per cent of it was used since 1950, due mainly to an expansion in irrigated acreages.

Irrigation cannot be called the "culprit", in this case, however. Rather, it is merely the victim of a natural situation — drought. Weather conditions have failed to keep our water supply in balance during a period of great demand by the farmers.

The lowering water tables are a matter of concern in other sections of the state, also. Natural springs in Central and South Texas are at their lowest ebb or have ceased flowing altogether for the first time in the history of white settlements.

Comal springs in the San Marcos-New Braunfels area ordinarily flows about 317 cubic feet of water per second. Early this summer, the spring went dry for the first time.

Barton Springs in Austin, a natural water source that fluctuates rapidly with rains, was producing only 12 cubic feet per second in late August. Its usual flow varies between a maximum of 180 cubic feet to a minimum 51½ cubic feet according to seasonal changes.

Primarily, Texas' greatest need is rain — in the State and on the watersheds of the Continental Divide. Secondly, the state needs comprehensive soil and water conservation measures which will keep the water in the vicinity in which it falls.

Surface tanks, small check dams and storage dams in the small streams and rivers, coupled with soil conservation work in the fields will help save our precious water, and aid in replenishing the underground supply.

D. E. Baird To Speak At Church

D. E. Baird of San Antonio will speak at the morning service Sunday at First Methodist Church Hondo. His message will be a description of the good done by the wide distribution of scriptures throughout the land.

Baird is a member of the Gideons a business men's group for distribution of Bibles.

Paul Ephraim Jr. will preach at the service sponsored by the Youth Sunday night at 7:30. His message will be "Dedications of Life" and there will be special music by a youth quartet.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Bill,
This money back guarantee entitles the person, state or nation to all of the rain you will ever need: II Chronicles 7:13-15: "If I shut up heaven that there be no rain, or if I command the locusts to devour the land, or if I send pestilence among the people; If my people which are called by my name, shall humble themselves, and pray, and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways: then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and will heal their land. Now, mine eyes shall be open and mine ears attend unto the prayer that is made in this place."
J. Frank Jungman

Dear Sir:
We look forward eagerly to the weekly arrival of the Herald and through the years have enjoyed keeping up with the many people whom we knew in the years of our childhood and youth in Medina County.

Our own children are now both grown. Our daughter Antoinette is a senior home economics major at Texas A. and I at Kingsville and the boy Joe Loyd enters the College of Veterinary Medicine at A. and M. next month. How inexorable is the march of time!

Sincerely yours
Mrs. A. P. Weiss

NEITHER BATTLEFIELD nor housework defeated Molly Pitcher.

Her real name was Mary Ludwig Hays.

And on June 28, 1778, she came to Monmouth County, New Jersey, to visit her husband, an artilleryman serving in the Revolutionary War. When the battle of Monmouth began, Mary saw so much to be done that she just stayed.

She carried countless pitchers of water to the exhausted and wounded soldiers. And when her husband fell wounded, she took his place at a cannon. Before the battle ended, Mary Ludwig Hays became famous as Molly Pitcher, one of this country's first heroines.

Today's battles are being fought on the economic front. And there's much that any woman can do to help in this field. A family's sound financial standing depends as much upon a woman's ability to manage money as it does her husband's ability to make it.

Last Friday we had a visit from Mrs. Damon Westbrook, who said she has just read our column on county fairs and wanted to extend a special invitation to us to attend the Kendall County Fair being held in Boerne this weekend.

We'll bet the Hondo Chamber of Commerce doesn't know it, but last year Hondo had a representative in the opening day parade at the Boerne affair. Little LARRY WESTBROOK, dressed as a clown, wore a big sign on his back proclaiming "I'm from Hondo" and he walked the full parade route to show it off!

This Week --In Washington

By Clinton Davidson

During the next couple of months you will be hearing a lot of political campaign arguments about "the farm problem," and what to do about it. This, then, might be a good time to get some facts straight.

The farm planks in both parties promise 100 per cent of parity as the goal for farm prices. They differ only on the methods to be used in attaining that objective. Parity is determined by a formula intended to measure whether prices received by farmers are fair when compared to prices they pay.

For the past couple of years farm price averages have ranged between 80 per cent and 85 per cent of parity. Some commodity prices have been considerably lower than the average, and some well above.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently completed a study of farm prices, costs and income over the past 25 years. Those figures are significant only as they provide a yardstick for measuring how farmers are doing in relation to the remainder of the nation.

The survey includes detailed reports on 27 important types and sizes of farms in all major farming areas, and covers several hundred farms. The investment per farm ranged from $10,000 to $178,000, and averaged $60,000.

Net income per farm increased from about $800 in 1940 to $2,100 in 1955. The high during that period was $3,100 in 1947. Farm purchasing power, despite the more dollars available, was only about 10 per cent higher in 1955 than in 1940.

Farm efficiency — the production per worker — increased by about 40 per cent from 1940 to 1955, largely due to increased farm mechanization. The number of tractors and other farm machinery more than doubled during the 15-year period.

Perhaps the best yardstick for measuring how farmers have fared in relation to urban factory employees is the per-hour return for labor. Farmers worked an average of 8 hours a day, about the same as city workers.

Averages can be misleading because incomes, even on adjoining farms, vary so widely. They do, however, provide a reasonable guide as to how farmers have been faring generally. Here are some USDA figures on average net incomes per hour of work in different parts of the country for 1955.

Northeastern dairy farmers earned an average of 81 cents an hour, but in Wisconsin the average was 35 cents an hour. In the Corn Belt hog-dairy farmers averaged 52 cents, and hog-beef raisers earned 37 cents, but farmers who specialized in fattening hogs and beef cattle earned only 24 cents an hour.

Corn Belt farmers who grew grain for cash sale averaged 74 cents an hour. In Kentucky tobacco —livestock farmers earned 60 cents an hour, and in North Carolina tobacco-cotton growers averaged 73 cents. Cotton farmers in the southern Piedmont averaged 51 cents, but on the black prairie of Texas the average was 30 cents.

Thousands of Texans have been scrutinizing each announcement of how many votes each of the two gubernatorial candidates have received, but one of the most interested is MRS. MARGARET BEHRENS, daughter of MRS. ARMIN ROTHE.

MRS. BEHRENS has been on PRICE DANIEL'S staff in Washington for a number of years and is just as anxious as her boss is to return to Texas. She returned to Austin Monday to resume her duties with the Daniel-Ford-Governor staff following a weekend visit here with the ROTHS.

Grass

Topgrowth

Since the topgrowth (leaves and stems) of the plant is the factory of that plant, let us not destroy this factory completely by grazing grasses to the ground. It is very important to leave enough topgrowth so that the life process of the plant can continue to operate.

A good "rule of thumb" is to graze half and leave half. By leaving half of the topgrowth, the plant can continue to manufacture its own food and being stronger in topgrowth, it will tend to be stronger in rootgrowth, sending its roots deeper into the soil where it can pick up plan food and soil moisture that has never been used before.

Cut the leaves and stems from the plant and we destroy this natural process. Overgraze ranges and we weaken or destroy grass cover so that invaders of poor quality grasses and brush take over.

Proper use and management of rangeland is essential if we are ever to expect better grasses to return. Proper use and management is essential if we are to expect continued profitable grazing on ranges that are now improving and especially those that have been rootplowed and reseeded.

Grass

The topgrowth of grass is much like the human stomach. Just as the human stomach digests the foods we eat, so does the leaves of grass digest the plant foods taken in by the roots. Cut the stomach out of the person and you destroy the person; cut the leaves and stems from the grass plant and you destroy the plant.

This is borne out by the rapid changeover from a country once covered by a sea of grass to the present condition of bare ranges that are infested with invading plants such as mesquite and other brush.

The soil itself is a living thing where millions of bacteria are constantly changing raw organic matter into humus that conditions the soil. Other bacteria are rapidly changing the humus and the minerals such as phosphorus, calcium, potassium, iron and others into a form that can be taken into the plant through its roots. The roots take in the minerals, nitrogen, water and other materials and transport these materials through the stems to the leaves of the plant. Here the real digestion of the plant is carried on. The leaves take in sunshine and carbon dioxide from the air and triggers the digestive processes into operation. These react with the materials taken in by the roots and form the proteins, the carbohydrates, the fats and all the materials needed for more stem and leaf development.

Cut the leaves and stems from the plant and we destroy this natural process. Overgraze ranges and we weaken or destroy grass cover so that invaders of poor quality grasses and brush take over.

Proper use and management of rangeland is essential if we are ever to expect better grasses to return. Proper use and management is essential if we are to expect continued profitable grazing on ranges that are now improving and especially those that have been rootplowed and reseeded.

PRESENTS ANOTHER VIEW OF PRESENT POLITICSQUOTED FROM AN EMINENT AUTHORITY

If you are one of the many who kept up with the proceedings of the two recent conventions of the political parties, you are probably suffering from a surfeit of politics. And well you might be, for the actions of both bodies were distinguished more by what they attempted to dodge than what they faced up to.

Against this dual scramble for place and power, and the spoils that go with such power, displayed by partisans of the dominant parties, we quote this warning from a recent address by that eminent patriot and scholar, Dean Clarence Manion.

Read, and heed well:

... In a sustained, determined drive during the past twenty-five years the campaign "Against America" has made alarming progress. Today the Constitution of the United States is by-passed, misconstrued, and contemptuously disregarded to the point where effective Constitutional limitations upon the bloated powers of our highly centralized government at Washington have all but completely disappeared.

For practical purposes, liberty means a limited government. Where government is unlimited in its power, nobody is free. For this precise purpose, the founders of our country placed strict, firm enforceable limitations upon the power of American government in the clear language of our State and Federal Constitutions. In the interest of human liberty that made one branch of government into a check and limitation upon other branches. Above and beyond all of this they checked the power of the federal government by the reserved power of the individual states of the union. The explicit reservation of sovereign State powers in the Tenth Article of the Bill of Rights was a deliberate and calculated prohibition against the centralization of despotic control that had destroyed human liberty under every political system that existed prior to the establishment of the United States. The Tenth Article, the States Fights Article of the Bill of Rights, declares that the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution are reserved to the States and to the people. This, the Tenth Article of the Bill of Rights, is the axle upon which our entire Federal Constitutional System turns. Once this axle is broke, once the reserved sovereign power of the several States is destroyed, then the structure will collapse in centralized unrestrained despotism.

Between 1860 and 1938 the Supreme Court on 60 separate occasions nullified Federal Statutes that violated the reserved rights of the States. Since 1938, however, the Supreme Court has faced in the opposite direction. Not once in the past 18 years has the Supreme Court reversed an act of the Federal Government as a violation of states rights. On the contrary and within the past few years particularly, it has gratuitously extended the reach of one Federal Statute after another far beyond the expressed intention of Congress and always at the expense of reserved State Powers. The express direction of the Tenth Amendment is now ignored. The Supreme Court has now held that the President can destroy any reserved right of any state by the simple expedient of a secret international agreement.

Our best defense against the Communist Conquest of the United States is the full, whole-hearted enforcement of her Constitutional doctrine of States Rights. As long as our police forces, our Educational systems, our ballot boxes and our business and property rights are controlled exclusively by local State law, the Communist conspiracy can never succeed in its attempt to overthrow this great structure of American freedom. On the contrary, when power over these and other features of our popular welfare are once centered in Washington, then the stage will be set for the success of communism. Here in the U. S. A. once all of these powers are tightly centralized in Washington the Communists will precipitate a labor crisis, a financial crisis or a race crisis as justification for a nationwide crack-down of complete and absolute control of everything in the country.

10 Anvil Herald, Hondo, Texas
Friday, August 31, 1936Farmers
Receive Payments

Texas farmers will receive more than $23.8 million as payments for land placed in the soil bank acreage reserve program. Bob Cherry, extension economist, says that a total of 63,672 agreements were signed in Texas before the July 27 deadline.

Under the acreage reserve program, farmers are paid for each acre of land retired from the production of basic crops up to a specified percentage of their allotments. The program is designed to aid soil improvement and reduce surplus production, points out Cherry.

Farmers of the nation have signed agreements covering approximately 10.7 million acres while the 63,672 agreements signed in Texas cover 1,970,235.3 acres. The 3 of an acre represents the acreage taken out of tobacco.

Cherry says 14,708 wheat agreements covering 1,066,390 acres and with payments expected to reach $6,193,574 had been signed in Texas. Texas cotton farmers signed 49,322 agreements put $65,654 acres of cotton allotments into the acreage reserve and if they comply with all program requirements, can expect to receive $17,020,420 in government payments. Peanut producers of the state signed 3,195 agreements covering 33,905 acres for which they will receive $396,415. Only 74 were signed by rice growers in Texas on 4,286 acres on which they will receive $219,487. The single tobacco grower by reducing his allotment by three-tenths of an acre and putting the reduction in the soil bank will receive $102.

The economist said the largest number of acres put under acreage reserve agreements was in the Panhandle district and in the districts immediately to the south and east of the Panhandle. Extension and district 10, South-central, were other areas of heavy sign up.

NATURAL GAS
Helps put "ZOOM" in the Jets!

The next time you see a jet streaking through the sky, think of natural gas pouring through those roaring engines. Natural gas carries with it many liquid hydrocarbons as it comes from the well, and one of those liquids—kerosene—is the basic component of jet fuel.

United Gas alone produced more than 187 million gallons of kerosene, natural gasoline and similar products last year. Natural gas is essential to aviation, and to many other industries. It is an important factor in attracting industry to this area.

Veteran School Man Will Head D'Hanis Children This Year

A veteran school man, B. J. Stewart, will be at the superintendent's position when the D'Hanis schools open their doors Sept. 4.

Stewart will be the head man over 12 other teachers — one teacher is still needed at the school but will probably be filled before school opens.

Arriving in D'Hanis Aug. 10, Stewart and his family, wife and 15 year-old son, Skipper, have become settled in their new home opposite the D'Hanis school building.

A former principal of the Nueces Canyon High School, Stewart is well-known to school men in this part of the state. He was superintendent of schools at Knippa from 1946 to 1952, and started teaching school at Nueces Canyon during the 1916-17 school year.

He was born at Barksdale and taught school there for 13 years, before accepting the job at Knippa. Teaching is not the only profession Stewart follows — he attended law school and has practiced law for a number of years. He also has a ranch at Barksdale but says most of his life has been spent in teaching.

The 58 year-old man helped organize the Texas Law School Association.

Stewart ways his "aim is to build the D'Hanis school into one of the best small schools in Texas and give the children of D'Hanis the best educational opportunities possible."

More than 240 students are expected to register for school this year. The first day of school will be Sept. 4, and classes will be held all day. Students will register Sept. 1.

Besides being superintendent of schools, Stewart will also serve as football coach. He is expecting 20 men out for practice which began August 24. Stewart says a "good many" lettermen are back from last year and D'Hanis should "expect to see a good year."

Frank Ortego, one of the outstanding backs in the district, will return for another crack at D'Hanis opponents. Stewart also expects to boast a veteran line. First game of the season will be Sept. 21 at Knippa. A strong freshman class is expected to strengthen the team.

Stewart is a member of the Lions Club and says ranching, athletics and politics are his main hobbies. After 30 years experience, Stewart will lend his leading hand to the D'Hanis schools.

He replaces John M. Slavick, who resigned to accept another position.

HERE IN HONDO

Lt. and Mrs. Leo Dannemiller returned home Monday from California where they visited in Los Angeles, Temple City and Santa Barbara. They left Tuesday for Leesville, La. where Lt. Dannemiller is stationed at Fort Polk. Their address in Leesville is 1611 1st St.

M&M Sam Moss, Laura and Linda, visited Hearne, Baytown and Galveston during his vacation recently. He returned to his duties at the bank Monday.

Mrs. Paul Pope drove to Rockdale Tuesday for a two-day visit with her mother, who is observing her birthday this week. Mrs. Ed Rogers accompanied her as far as San Marcos for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Hugo Saathoff Sr. was pleasantly surprised on her birthday last Sunday, when her children and relatives honored her with a barbecue dinner. About 36 guests attended.

Looking through some old recipes the other day, I ran across one that used to be my favorite summer meal when I was a kid. On hot summer days when no one felt like eating a thing, mom would cook up a big bowl of cherry soup and dumplings in the afternoon — chill it — and serve it cold for dinner.

Just the thought of the delicious wine red soup and tender dumplings soaked in cherry broth was enough to tantalize my taste buds. And since my own family has a "sweet tooth" I decided to try out cherry soup on them — And did it ever make a hit!

Here's the recipe, copied from grandma's own file:

1 qt. box fresh sour cherries (not pitted)
1 1/2 qts. cold water
1/2 cup sugar
Pinch of salt

Bring to a boil and let boil until skins break. Turn flame low and add dumplings.

Dumplings: Beat 1 egg lightly, adding a pinch of salt and butter the size of a hickory nut; then add 1 tablespoon milk, 1/2 teaspoon sugar. Stir in 1/4 teaspoon baking powder and enough flour to make a soft batter. Drop from end of teaspoon into boiling soup and cook about 2 minutes. Cool in refrigerator — and serve cold.

Chilled soups, salads, fruit juices, cold meats and seafood are regular summer meals at our house. I've learned to add an elegant touch by serving cold foods surrounded by ice.

A regular set of glassware "icers" comes in handy for chilled consommé or seafood cocktails but I have lots of fun making up my own ice servers, too.

To make an attractive relish tray, I line my favorite roll basket with heavy aluminum foil. Then fill it with finely crushed ice and arrange carrot curls, olives, celery hearts, green onions, radishes, green pepper rings, cucumber slices and small hot peppers — paying particular attention to color contrasts.

Ordinary glass baking dishes make fine ice servers, too. Fill the dish with crushed ice and then place glasses of fruit juice in the ice and serve on a buffet table.

I was inspired to use a lot of ice because of the automatic ice server in my new LP-Gas refrigerator. It's actually a miniature ice making machine built right in the freezing compartment. We never have to fill ice trays or struggle with removing cubes at our house. Interesting ice circles are always available — one at a time or by the bucketful.

My husband and I have always been intrigued by the silent operation of gas refrigeration and when we planned to use LP-Gas for heating and cooking we decided to hitch up our refrigerator to our back yard "gas well" too. As a bonus we developed a new "yen" for all sorts of iced drinks and chilled foods.

Speaking Of Sports

By Dr. John H. Jennings

Owls Work Hard

Coach Buck Carver put his 1956 Owls to work last Monday morning—and since that time a lot of pounds have been run off—not to mention the muscles made sore. Practice sessions are being held on the newly well-sodded baseball field.

Should Be Heavy

We have not seen enough of the Owls—or talked to the coaches enough to speak as an authority about the club—but one thing for sure the flock will be a heavy group—both in the line and in the backfield. They may lack speed but anyone running into the Hondo line should find the same last year's meat-grinder action awaiting them.

Battle for Positions

The big battle at present is for one end spot, a guard—and possibly center. It is a bit unfair and premature to mention names—but Louis Lasiter is showing the proper spirit for a backfield spot—he could give Ray Highsmith a run for his money. Word has it that Bobby Ward is making an interesting bid for a guard position—he is big enough and is built well at 198 pounds—with the proper desire he could be a pleasant surprise. Big Jug Wiemer is set on playing the spot vacated by the outstanding Jerry Muennink—a very close friend of Jug's. Bobby Taylor is making a play for a guard and for the center position.

Several boys are making a bid for one end spot but it is a bit early to see who will win out here. Jimmy Leazenby a fine basketball player is out for football and if he can learn fast may make the Owls a fine end prospect.

Nixon Next Friday

Next Friday night will find the lights burning on Barry Field as the Owls open against Nixon. Both teams will have had only a short time to prepare for game action. We do not know the experienced hands Nixon has—but Hondo will have a number of veterans to line up for the early season game—and this should make them a pre-game favorite. They had better learn fast in their opener—for the next week Del Rio comes to town and this is one the Owls would like to win. The Wildcats took a 21-20 win in 1954 and a 6-6 tie last year so it is high time for a change here in 1956.

A Correction

The printer must have dropped a line or two of print last week for this is the way a portion account of the Braves-Del Rio game should have read: Ep Finger got a single, Jerry Muennink walked, Parsons laid down a sacrifice and Johnny Marshall came through with a two run game-tying single.

Golf Sweepstakes

Big doings took place last Sunday at the H&B Course—107 golfers teed off—and each one was impressed with the fine condition of the greens and fairways. The entire layout was as beautiful and all the locals were proud to show it off.

The Tournament was run off in a smooth manner—with relatively few complaints and no complaints any more serious than a few birdie or par putts would not have cured.

Four or five young teenage local golfers entered the Tournament and it was good to see them hold up their end of the scoring. They did fine in competition and should improve from here on for they like their golf.

The big news of the day of course was the hole-in-one by Gene Kincaid of Uvalde—this should cause a few more to join the Course's Hole-in-One Club.

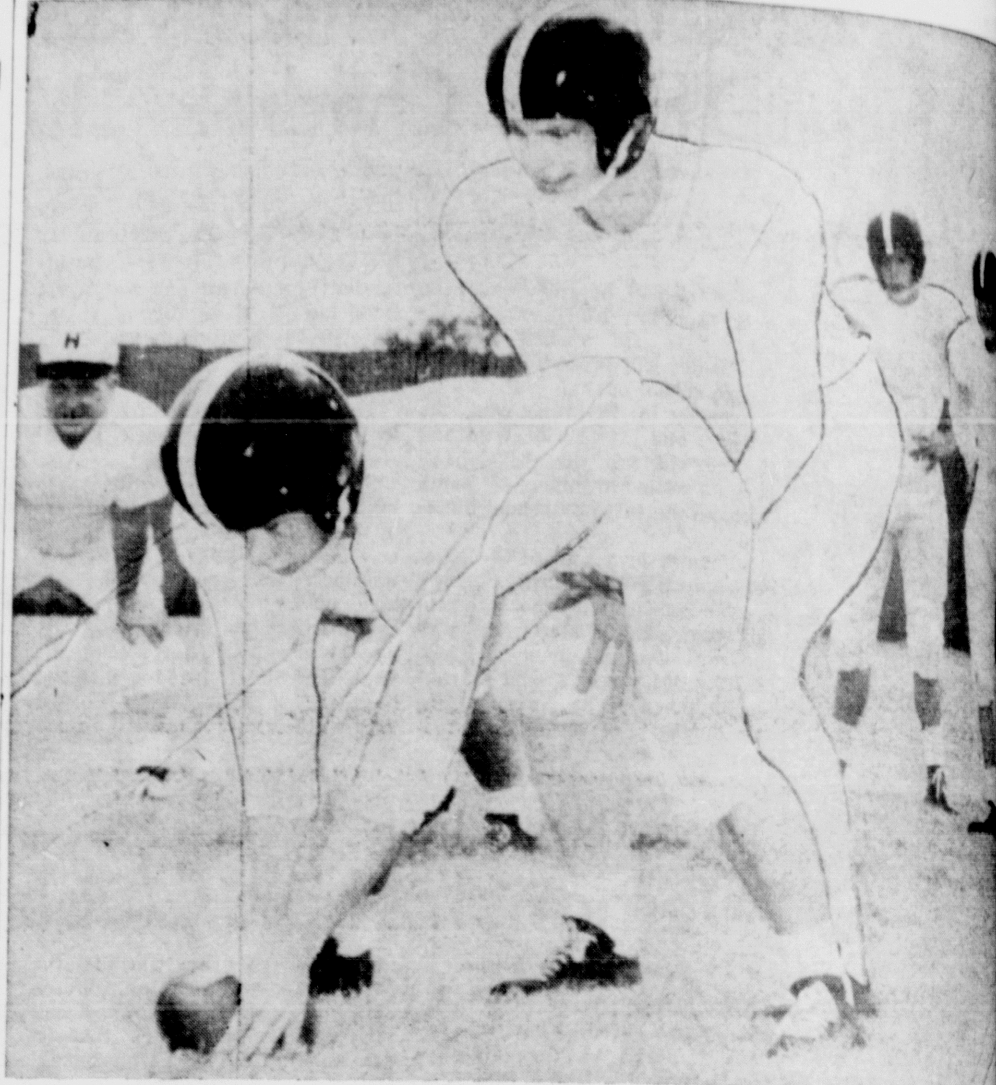

D'HANIS NEWS

By Mrs. Amos Finger

Mrs. Romona Merritt and her brother, Charles Edmundson, were baptized last Friday evening by Rev. O. B. Kohlich at the Holy Cross Catholic Church. Sponsors for Charles were Don Scott and Mrs. Walter Burrell. Mrs. John Rieber was Mrs. Merritt's godmother.

M&M W. W. Kellogg are leaving for Louisiana and Arkansas and other points of interest. They will visit Mr. Kellogg's daughter and family, M&M Ralph Carman.

M&M Tom Finger and daughter, Mollie, spent Sunday at Uvalde with M&M Frank Rucker and family.

ALVIN HARTMAN, Hondo High School quarterback try-out, calls signals as Bobbie Taylor anxiously awaits his cue. Coach Max Carver, left, looks on as two other unidentified Owl hopefuls eagerly await their turn during Monday morning's workouts. There were 36 boys out Monday, the first day of football practice. Hondo's first game will be with Nixon, Sept. 7. The group traveled to Pleasanton Wednesday night for a scrimmage session.

HOW MUCH HAVE YOU SAVED SINCE LAST LABOR DAY?

If you haven't saved as much as you think you should have, don't be discouraged. It's really easy to do—if you have a simple, systematic savings plan.

A Hondo National Bank savings account is just what you need. Here's all you do. Just set aside a few dollars each week to one of the safest investments available, and one where your returns are guaranteed. Our interest rates (2% per annum compounded semi-annually) will insure you of a sizeable nest egg by next Labor Day.
